

CALL FOR POETS - APRIL 17, 2009

Do you write poetry? Do you read poetry?
Do you love poetry? Do you hate poetry?

Here's your chance to spring poetry on an unsuspecting world. Fifteen minutes is all it takes.

From 9am to 9pm on Friday, April 17, 2009 all over Canada and in the U.S. poets will be speaking poetry in random locations. Sign up online and take your chance to participate in a day of guerrilla poetry.

Don't be shy. This is about bringing poetry in all it's forms to all the corners of daily life. If you've got fifteen minutes of poems, or can make one poem last 15 minutes, you're in. If you aren't a poet, but have a poem or three you can read aloud, you're in. If you do performance poetry or spoken word, all the better. If you know a number of poets, get together to read for an hour or share 15 minutes.

You can read in a bookstore, hospital, street corner, hotel, shopping mall, art gallery, cafe/restaurant, retail store, bus stop, park, theatre, school/classroom, backyard party, farm, at home, sculpture garden, under a bridge, in a canoe on a lake, at the beach, at the gym, anywhere you can get away with making 15 minutes of noise.
